

GLENWOOD.

The late cold weather has caused a good deal of suffering here, especially among the stock where they were not sufficiently sheltered. Chickens dropped off the roost, and a great many pigs have froze to death.

Ask any one whom we meet what he is following and the answer will be, nothing but getting wood.

The price of hogs has been so high that they have all been bought up so close that there isn't, on an average, one hog to the family in the country.

Several of our young folks who aspire to higher honors have gone to Denton to attend school the balance of the winter.

Mr. Calvin Holbrook who has been lingering with the dropsy, is not expected to live but a short time. He has not laid down for about four weeks.

Andy Moore, a good citizen from Blaine, has moved here on the farm belonging to Kirk Queen.

Thomas Rice, from the Means tunnel, is here visiting his sister Mrs. Isaac Burton.

While out hunting partridges the other day Ed. Taylor killed thirteen at one shot. Not to be outdone by Taylor, Jim West went out the next day gathered up forty-eight at two shots, but the boys are trying to make it appear that Jim found most of his frozen to death.

Born, on the 12 inst., to Mr. and Mrs. James Coffey, a fine boy, and as this is Jim's first, it is needless to say that he is as happy as a big sun flower.

When we read the paragraph in last week's News written by Cato of Vessie, it reminded us of home, but we were a little more fortunate, for to save our old back we made a sled about three feet long on which we could haul enough at a load to do all night.

The schedule time of carrying the mail from Denton will be changed in a few days. Starting from here at 9 o'clock, leaving Denton coming back after the 11 o'clock train going east. Heretofore mail had to lay over for two days at Denton. There is talk of Eliza Webb renting out his farm here and moving out to Denton where he has a large store. Mr. W. is one of our best citizens, and we regret to see him go.

James Twinnam, of Cannonsburg, was here yesterday to see his daughter, Mrs. Calvin Holbrook.

FALLSBURG, KY.

We have heard several persons asking "what has become of Fred Fright?" we can say for the most part that he has been frozen up like a great deal of other "property."

The people of our country sustained some loss of stock and poultry during the protracted cold spell which will prove all the more terrible if it continues much longer.

Our school at this place is taking the lead of any school we have heard from. Such was expected as Prof. Tolbert possessed all the qualifications requisite for a successful teacher, and as such is commended to us.

The "Hop" given, some night ago, at Frank Cooksey's was a very enjoyable affair and considered a very rare treat by all who attended same, great enjoyment abounded.

Rev. J. C. Marcum has been very low with fever for two weeks but is much better at present as is the infant child of his which has been very sick.

We deeply regret to chronicle the death of the 13 year old daughter of M. Browning which occurred last Sunday, after an illness of three days. She was a gem in her family and a shining star with all her playmates, and she will be greatly missed because of her purity and brightness, and in her death we sustain a great loss, but our loss is her gain. The bereaved parents have our deepest sympathy, for it is they who are most bereaved.

The marriage of Mr. Ves. Bolt to Miss Mattie Lawson which took place last week at the home of the brides parents on Cat, might as well be spoken of as a thing of more than ordinary occurrence; they have the best wishes of FRED FRIGHT.
